

2024 STIFF PERSON SYNDROME SYMPOSIUM RECAP

2024 SPS SYMPOSIUM RECAP

May 4-5, 2024
Windsor Locks, CT & Online

Welcome to the 2024 SPS Symposium recap—a unique opportunity to advance the understanding and treatment of Stiff Person Syndrome (SPS).

This annual symposium event brings together world-leading experts, patients, and key stakeholders for a deep dive into cutting-edge research and collaborative efforts to:

- Drive SPS awareness
- Highlight innovation in SPS research
- Connect our global community

Learn more about the 2024 event at stiffperson.org/2024-sps-symposium and explore the resources available, including video records and downloadable PDF presentation summaries.

SCAN TO WATCH THE 2024 PRESENTATIONS

Mark your calendars now for the 2025 SPS Symposium

July 19-20, 2025
Windsor Locks, CT and online

THE 2024 STIFF PERSON SYNDROME SYMPOSIUM RECAP

Shaping the future of SPS research

Our annual SPS Symposium is more than just a community event; it's a critical part of our mission to drive the science forward and connect with global partners, from pharmaceutical leaders to academic experts.

Spotlight on the SPS Global Registry:

A major focus of this year's symposium is the panel discussion on the SPS Global Registry—centralizing patient data to accelerate research and improve clinical trials. This initiative is crucial for overcoming the challenges of SPS research and will be a cornerstone in our efforts to find a cure.

Scan or click the QR codes below to watch last year's presentations and gain insights into the forefront of SPS research.

Hematopoietic Stem Cell Transplant in SPS
Amanda Piquet, MD, University of Colorado

From Invisible to Invincible
Tara Zier, DDS, Founder & CEO, The SPSRF, & SPS Patient

Research in SPS: Past, Present, and Future
Scott Newsome, DO, MSCS, FAAN, Johns Hopkins SPS Center

SPS Global Registry Panel Discussion
Panel Members: SPS Global Registry Steering Committee Members

Exploring the Fundamentals of SPS
Duarte Machado, MD, Chase Family Movement Disorders Center

Wrap-Up Panel Discussion
Panel Members: Presenters & SPS Global Registry Steering Committee Members

Mark your calendars for July 19-20, 2025, in Windsor Locks, CT & Online
The Sheraton Hartford Hotel at Bradley Airport.